

Welcome to RPR, Inc.

Since 1998, Returnable Packaging Resource, Inc. has packaged, stored, and protected our clients' most valuable parts and resources.

From protective dunnage and steel shipping racks, to plastic bulk containers, totes and pallets, RPR provides customized packaging solutions and services to fit your specific needs. Many of North America's largest manufacturing companies rely on RPR to solve material handling problems in new, cost-effective and "green" ways.

A total one-stop solution to your packaging needs, RPR offers A Smarter Way to Return.

Throughout our history, RPR has protected some of the most advanced parts in the automotive industry for companies such as Honda, Mercedes, BMW, Hyundai, and other major automotive manufacturers. Additionally, RPR has delivered complete returnable packaging systems and supplied new containers to manufacturers in industries related to food service, air travel, construction and home appliances.
